THREATENED REVOLT AMONG C. I. A. STUDENTS NIPPED IN BUD BY PRES. BLAYNEY

By Associated Press.
Denton, Texas, Feb. 18.—The threatened revolt among the students of the College of Industrial Arts here in favor of Doctor Lindsey Blayney, resigned president, was nipped in the bud today by President Blayney himself.
Blayney stopped Miss Margaret Dowling, of Houston, when she started the reading of a statement giving a resume of conditions that lead up to Blayney's resignation before the regular weekly student assembly.
Miss Dowling's statement declared the conditions at the school were unhealthy, that the students' complaints had been ignored by the

SYSTEMATIC SEARCH BEING MADE OF DERBIS CAUSED BY SNOWSLIDE; 35 KNOWN DEAD

By Associated Press.
Bingham, Utah, Feb. 18.—The first body taken from the debris of Sap Gulch this morning was that of James Sanderson, aged twenty-one, and single, of Gunnison, Utah. The body was found on a mattress more than 150 feet below the location of Sanderson's home.

By Associated Press.
Bingham, Utah, Feb. 18.—With a force of more than one hundred men at work, a systematic search of the debris at the foot of Sap Gulch began today under the direction of Frank Wardlaw, superintendent of the Utah-Idaho Mining Company.

In this way it is hoped to recover the bodies of those still unaccounted for in the catastrophe, which yesterday took a known toll of thirty-five lives.

Approximately forty others are missing.
Twelve survivors are in the hospital and more than a score of others received first aid treatment.

By Associated Press.
Bingham, Utah, Feb. 18.—With a known death list of twenty-eight, every available man in this little mining camp in the mountains is bending every effort to recover the fifty or more still unaccounted for following the snowslide that swept down Sap Gulch Wednesday morning, carrying everything before it.

While between 50 and 100 men are working through the night in the uncertain light of a dozen electric searchlights, uncovering the body of a co-worker every half hour, half a dozen others are playing a fire hose on the debris in an effort to extinguish the smoldering fire which added its horror to the catastrophe Wednesday night.

The known dead numbered twenty-eight. Ten are in the Bingham Hospital and the emergency hospital at the Highland Boy mine office. Twenty-nine are known to be missing and this number may be increased, as Frank A. Wardlaw, superintendent of the Utah-Idaho Mining Company, said he did not know how many others were in the seventeen buildings which were swept down Sap Gulch by an avalanche. No hope is held out for those remaining in the debris. Not more than a dozen are believed to have escaped injury.

The bodies, as fast as they were recovered, were placed in sleighs and taken three miles down the canyon to the morgue, where they were placed in a double row on the floor. Tags bearing the names were placed on some of the silent forms while others were simply numbered, pending identification. Many of these bodies were frightfully burned. Others were scarcely scratched and Dr. F. M. Straup, county physician and also mayor of Bingham, said that in most cases death was due to asphyxiation.

Seventeen dwellings, housing families of miners employed in the several copper mines in the neighborhood, a three-story front building and a number of smaller outbuildings were buried beneath the avalanche of thousands of tons of rock, ice, snow and other debris that swept a distance of two miles, down the gulch this morning shortly before 10 o'clock.

There was no warning of the approaching doom, and the victims were caught in a trap. Some were caught in a short time before had bid their husbands fare well were buried beneath the wreckage of their homes. Some were instantly killed, others more or less seriously injured, while others met death in the fire which broke out, and smoldered in the wreckage of their homes.

For more than a day a blinding snowstorm held the gulch in its grip. This snow, more than a foot in depth, rested upon the crest of earlier falls, and it is the belief of mining engineers here that the lighter new snow started the slide at the top of the gulch.

With increased fury, weight and speed it swept down the narrow canyon which is less than fifty-six feet wide at its base. The miners' homes and the boarding house rest on the sloping side hills.

TROUBLE MARKED REOPENING OF MINE NEAR WILKESBARRE

THOUSANDS OF MINERS FLOCK TO SHAFTS AS WHISTLES BLOW

By Associated Press.
Wilkesbarre, Penn., Feb. 18.—Trouble marked the reopening of the anthracite mines here today, when 500 workers, employed by the Pennsylvania Coal Company at the No. 4 shaft at Pittston went on a strike a few minutes after the resumption of operations.

The dispute arose over the wage rates, a sore spot in the upper hard coal district for years.

By Associated Press.
Scranton, Penn., Feb. 18.—Mining was resumed in the anthracite region today when a vast army of underground toilers returned to their jobs after being idle for more than five months because of the strike.

The whole region became active as the mine whistles blew this morning for the first time in nearly half a year.

Thousands of workers entered the pits in compliance with the five-year peace pact formally signed here yesterday by the joint committee of operators and miners.

NAVARRO COUNTY FIELDS PRODUCING 40,000 BBL'S DAILY

TOTAL PRODUCTION OF THE COUNTY PLACED AT 1-
250,000 PER MONTH

Monthly deep oil production in Navarro county holds at 40,000 barrels per day and 1,200,000 barrels of shallow production, according to close estimates of oil men.

The three deep fields in the county, Corsicana-Powell, Richland and Currie, and the old Corsicana shallow field are the sources of Navarro county crude oil production.

The total deep production each month is about 1,200,000 barrels, and the shallow production is 90,000 barrels for the same period, totaling 1,290,000 barrels per month.

Freestone county in which the Wortham field is located, produces about 150,000 barrels a month, with the Limestone county, which takes in the Mexia field, about 500,000 per month.

This group of Balcones Fault fields comprise the East Central Texas district, with a grand total of approximately 2,240,000 barrels crude per month.

WHEN SCHOOL IS OUT.

About three p. m. in Corsicana, they begin to appear—a thin rompish line, orderly enough at first, but soon widening and scattering, a vociferous and volatile throng. Little chaps from the kindergarten making their first real adventure in the wide, wide world; whistling and shouting boys and laughing girls, all the way up to the higher grades; thrilling with life, arm-swinging, feet dancing—a happy, carefree company.

Watch 'em pass. What a study in legs, sturdy, straight, bowed, but for the most part vigorous and dependable. Study the shoes. What is more eloquent than a child's footgear, especially a boy's rubberless, misshapen, and frequently rubberless. (How a boy despises rubbers!) Observe the accoutrements of school children in winter time; coats buttoned and coats flapping wide, caps perched on the backs of heads and caps awry bare hands and hands gloved and mittened—more interesting these than Parisian gowns or collegiate styles.

Hats off! You who uncover in the presence of the flag or to honor some, conquering hero. Here comes the most potent and glorious company the world knows. The children coming home from school! The America that is to be.

BACK TO YOUTHFUL DAYS.

A writer in an Eastern newspaper mentions the copper-toed boots that boys of the late sixties and the seventies wore. This will bring back to many a man well along in middle life the recollection of a prized possession, especially if he was brought up in the country. The first pair of boots was an event destined never to fade from memory. They not only had copper toes, but to add to their resplendency, they had tops of crimson red leather alternating with green.

What boy of five or six years would not be proud of such an outfit. With such boots a boy experienced something of the satisfaction that must be felt by a king whose crown "on his head an hour had been." Yet there were drawbacks. Who forgets the effort to draw on the stiffened footwear in the morning after they had been thoroughly soaked by tramping through snow and slush. Well worn was the jamb of the door or other wood that bore the imprints of the copper-toed boot of a vigorous boy applied on many winter mornings as he struggled to pull on the boot in order not to be late to school. Those were the days!

The pleasures of youth quickly pass but recollection hovers fondly about the first pair of boots, a possession that in esteem surpasses anything that came later in life. Those who were not boys when copper-toed variegated top boots were in vogue missed something worth while, something that admits of no substitute.

THE THINGS YOU EAT.

The reverse of the old saying that men dig their graves with their teeth is presented by Dr. E. V. McCollum, professor of chemical hygiene, Johns Hopkins University. He asserted longevity, physical and mental alacrity, general well being and happiness can be had by proper diet. That is a sweeping claim.

But he is undoubtedly right when he says that the appetite alone is not a safe guide, citing that some appetites ask for immoderate quantities of tobacco, moderate quantities of alcohol, sugar, habit forming drugs. Experience teaches that some foods which are extremely palatable to the individual derange his digestion.

The trained dietitian has proved himself able to cure many illnesses and build up depleted strength. While he might not be able to bring about "general well being and happiness" in every case, it doubtless would be of value to anyone to consult one. Then, if the patient did not follow the advice received he would at least know what was wrong with him.

A HOME-OWNING NATION.

Nobody talks about bolshevik plots in the United States any more. The excitement about "radicals" has died down along with the rest of the war hysteria.

Now comes a report of the census bureau to tell the reason. Pretty nearly every other family in the entire country owns its own home. More than half of the home-owners have their property free from debt. Probably a considerable percentage of those listed as renters are young people who are looking around for a home to buy. Fine chance to get such people to experiment with any scheme of government which might weaken property rights.

And the best way to increase this national security is to bring about conditions making house-building and home-owning easier for the wage worker.

LONGER LIFE.

When told that the mortality rate is falling, lengthening the average span of life, many persons suppose that better doctors, improved living conditions and the child's footgear, especially a boy's rubberless, misshapen, and frequently rubberless. (How a boy despises rubbers!) Observe the accoutrements of school children in winter time; coats buttoned and coats flapping wide, caps perched on the backs of heads and caps awry bare hands and hands gloved and mittened—more interesting these than Parisian gowns or collegiate styles.

Plumbing is not what could be called a "sanitary" word, although it is the first word in sanitation. Perhaps it is denied its due credit because the word is associated with grimy workmen and apologetic bills. But one need only to compare this country's death rate with that of those countries which have little or no plumbing, to find the reason for the lengthening span of life.

GIRLS AND COLLEGES.

A college education for women, however dubious our grandparents may have looked on the need and practicability of of such a venture, is accepted by most people today as a matter of course. And if there lingers in the mind of any of us the suspicion that for girls a college education is not all to the good, we may find some assurance to the contrary in the opinions of a woman educator who has made a study of what the college girl to-day reads, and who brings from this survey a reassuring message.

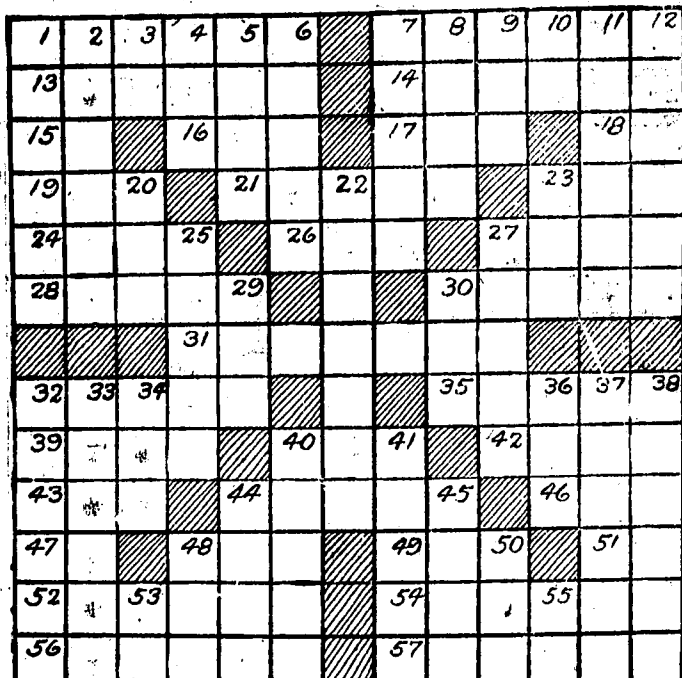

The college girl who fell an easy prey to popular authors and matinee idols, who was presented to us on the stage and in novels very much burlesqued as a bundle of giggles wound round with strings of feminine college slang, as incoherent as it was unintelligible, this girl is becoming, if she isn't already extinct. The girl who has taken her place is one with whom the authors of "best sellers" and heroes of the drama will have to reckon.

"When Lord Dunsany lectures to her," says the author of this analysis of the college girl's reading, "she is not carried away by his poetic presence. Beneath the surface of his flow of words she finds a mixed metaphor, and Dunsany has lost a friend."

Although one may doubt whether the use of a mixed metaphor is a justifiable reason for casting aside the friendship of a lord, the truth of the matter is that along with other things in the world the college girl has greatly changed in her attitude toward education. A seriousness of purpose has become evident in her work, which, in the opinion of many men alone is not a safe guide, citing that some appetites ask for immoderate quantities of tobacco, moderate quantities of alcohol, sugar, habit forming

Farmers Want Column

According to the chief entomologist of the United States department of agriculture bugs do damage to the extent of $2,000,000,000 a year. They are the enemies of agriculture, horticulture, floriculture and of about everything else in the line of plant life. There are several hundred thousand different kinds and most of them are destructive to what man does not want them to be. However, some are the deadly enemies' of other bugs and therefore serve a useful purpose, but the chief trouble is that there are not enough of the latter and man has to take up the job of filling out what these lack.

That he does not succeed completely is evidenced by the fact that there is such heavy annual loss due to the industry of the bugs.

It happens, too, that the most destructive of the bugs are immigrants, or descendants of alien bugs. These are bolshevik by nature for as soon as they arrive they start in to destroy what they find here. The gypsy moth, the Japanese beetle and the boll weevil, worst of all, are mere examples of importations to our great injury. If there were no bug enemies to fight, the farmer would have much greater crops, fruit would never be stung, if not sprayed. We'd have more to eat than we do, if frost, drought or flood did not come along to do the work of destruction. Even without bugs there would be risk in plant growing and the bugs add greatly to the hazard. When the earth's population becomes more dense it may be that necessity will require that bugs be entirely eliminated in order that there may be enough to eat.

It is estimated that since December 1, of last year the French expedition in the Rif has worn out 51,862 packs of playing cards.

Another anomaly in our system of criminal law is that the prisoner who can't carry a saw into a jail can consult a shyster.

When a man gets into a doubtful scheme for making money his assets depend on his liability.

ENNIS SCOUTS ARE WINNERS OF HONORS IN LOCAL CONTESTS

Saturday morning ninety Scouts representing six troops, met at the City Park to compete in the various Scout events. The program was started with the water boiling contest, which was won by Troop 7. The contest was close and this added to the enthusiasm of the crowd. Scout Thomas Hackley, member of Troop 34, Dallas, was the official scorekeeper and Scout masters and troop officers served as judges for the events.

The winners of the following events were: Signaling, Troop 1, Ennis, and Troop 7, Corsicana; tent pitching, Troop 2 and Troop 7; knot tying, Troop 1, Ennis; wood chopping, Troop 7; half mile relay, Troop 7; nature study, Troop 1; rescue race, Troop 1; dressing race, Troop 1; first aid, Troop 1; pyramid building, Troop 1; sack race, Troop 7; message relay, Troop 2, Ennis, and Troop 1.

Ennis had three full patrols present, which gave them the attendance points of 15.

The final scoring was, Troop 1, Ennis, 53; Troop 7, Corsicana 51. Troop 2, 32; first, second and third places respectively.

When the contest closed all of the Scouts agreed that there was much more to Scouting than they had expected and each troop left the park determined to perfect themselves in the events so that at the next rally they would "copy" at the honors. The next rally will possibly be held in Ennis after a series of rallies are held in the city for Corsicana Scouts.

English White Leghorn Baby Chicks

From a breeding farm where every hen must earn the right to stay at the farmstead. Every item of food and every range condition that it takes to produce a healthy, vigorous, high-producing hen is carefully observed. These qualities result in a chick that ranks among the best. Capacity 1000 chicks per week. Member Texas Baby Chick Association.

Quality chicks are too cheap, and feed is too high for a farmer to keep anything but a high-producing hen. Write for circular, or come to see my chickens before you buy, and then you will know what you are getting. Come out the Corsicana and Blooming Grove pike to Pinkston, and take the first dirt road one mile north.

PLANS BEING LAID FOR SPRING STYLE SHOW CORSICANA

EVENT WILL BE STAGED AT HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM
MARCH 9

Plans have been made and committees appointed for the holding of a Spring Style Show at the Corsicana high school auditorium under the auspices of the Corsicana Rotary Club for the night of March 9. The plans and decision for the show were made at the regular weekly meeting of the Rotary Club Wednesday noon and in a later meeting, committees to have charge of the various details were appointed.

Those in charge of the Spring Style Show will not spare effort to make this the best of its kind ever staged in Corsicana and the merchants are making plans for the presentation of their portion of the entertainment a success and each will vie with the other in attractive demonstrations.

At the present time many of the details have not been worked out but an effort will be made to equal or surpass the shows staged in some of the larger cities of Texas this year.

Everyone was in favor of the proposed project at the meeting of the Rotary Club Wednesday.

A capacity house is expected as the proceeds of the entertainment will go to the students' loan fund sponsored by the club to aid worthy students to continue their education even if they are not financially able. Loans are made to deserving students who in turn repay the fund after finishing school.

Following are the committees which have been appointed to care for the various details incident to the staging of this show:

Executive Committee—George F. Baum, H. D. Pillers, Joe B. Peterson, Ed I. Pupp, W. A. Tarter, Sam J. Jackson, John G. Gossett, Clarence A. Middleton, Pat McKie, E. P. Kennedy, Joe D. Ambrose.

Finance Committee—Harrison Feudley, Percy D. Williams, T. P. McLendon, Matt Thompson, J. A. Jones, Roy G. Thomas, M. Lee Moore, C. J. Knox.

Decorating Committee—W. H. Penland, Harry Grove, Roy Dwyer, Gene White, Win. Clarkson, Jr., F. H. Newton, Tom J. Walton, R. C. Curtis.

Models Committee—J. M. Dyer, Jr., Jess Eubank, J. A. Echols, John C. Calhoun, Jim H. Hook, Wayne R. Howell, Jim W. McGill.

Electric Display—Earl Ellis, Ben Blackmon, Fred Reese, W. S. Goode, O. L. Smith, E. Y. Cunningham, Lann W. McCendon.

Nursery for Children

Some young mothers are so exercised over the "cough" of germs that they won't let their babies or children play on the floor. They let them tumble or sit up to a table to play. Now really, this seems a shame when children of all ages enjoy "scouting around" so much. No cutting table or dining table can compare with a floor for a place on which to build blocks or set up railroad tracks. Why don't these people have a nursery with a floor kept clean enough and dustless enough to be played upon? Have this room kept for the children to play in and see that they wear little house slippers or sandals when playing there and that no grown-up enters who wears shoes that have trod the streets.

Not Qualified

Willie, who was nearly five, and his mother were sitting at home one night. At the table his sister, aged seven, was doing her home work. Suddenly mother looked up and saw Willie watching his sister. "Well, Willie," she said, "it will not be long before you will have to go to school."

"Oh," said Willie, "it's no use sending me to school."

"How is that?" asked his mother.

"What's the use of sending me to school?" exclaimed Willie. "I don't know anything and I can't read or write."

Life of a Sponge

The separate existence of a sponge begins with the breaking away from the parent of a tiny particle. The latter, after being whipped about for a time by tides and currents, eventually attaches itself to a piece of rock, and from that home it seeks its own livelihood, says Natural Science. The food of infant sponges consists of yolk cells, which contain a form of nourishment. Later, as the sponge grows, it requires something more solid, and this is brought by the currents, which sweep into a bag—half mouth, half stomach—minute particles of the new food.

First Iron Vessels

It is not recorded who first discovered that an iron vessel would float as easily as a wooden one. It is recorded that an iron boat was built and launched on the River Foss, in Yorkshire, England, as early as 1777, but the date of the invention of iron as a recognized material for ship construction is often given as 1813, when the lighter Vulture was built on the Monkland canal, near Glasgow, Scotland.

California's Capital

Before being admitted as a state, the capital of California was Monterey alternately with Los Angeles. Monterey was the capital from 1840 to 1845, Los Angeles from 1845 to 1850. Monterey was again the capital from 1847 until California was admitted as a new state. In 1849 Sacramento offered $100,000 for the honor of becoming the state capital, and became officially recognized as such in 1854.

Income Tax Notice

It is important that you have your income tax information all assembled and the net income computed ready to apply the new rates as soon as congress has determined what they will be. There is nothing definite yet as to extensions of time for filing, and with perhaps only a few days remaining in which to prepare the returns, the tax accountants will be snowed under and can not possibly handle all of the business that will come to them. Get yours ready now. If in need of assistance I can serve you to good advantage.

When to Consult an Optometrist

The optometrist is an acknowledged eyestrain specialist and should be consulted promptly—

When your eyes tire or the reading page blurs easily. When you have frequent headaches. When the muscles around the eyes draw wrinkles and frowns, or when you involuntarily partly close the eyes while looking at an object.

When you have a gritty, sandy, scratching sensation, as though some foreign substance was in the eye. When the eyes smart and water or the lids get inflamed often.

When things become dim or "swim" after being looked at for some time. Or when you have any nervous derangement that cannot otherwise be accounted for.

These are some of Nature's danger signals that should be promptly heeded. There's nothing to gain by delay.

Visit our Optical Department. Eyes examined free. Good eyesight is rather chosen to great riches. Properly fitted glasses will enable you to have both. Broken lenses duplicated.

Special to the Sun.

Forty-Two Party.

Richland, Texas, Feb. 13. Thursday afternoon, Feb. 11, Mrs. Lewis White of threw wide open her doors in true Southern hospitality to the newly organized Corsicana Club. Just as Mrs. Gordon, the president, being glanced at her wrist watch, pronounced 2:30 the last one of the twelve entered the door. Though the bright sun proclaimed springtime and beckoned all to stay out of doors the beautiful home of the hostess proved more inviting. And most pleasing of all was the bright, real wood fire burning merrily in the large fireplace. Yet ere the more cold-natured one were thoroughly thawed out score cards were passed—and then such a clatter and clatter as you never hear except among congenial spirits at a forty-two club.

Eight games were played, but as these ladies play merely for the social feature, the reporter failed to discover just who had been most lucky during the afternoon. For indeed "lucky" is the correct word as all are good players. During the playing Mrs. White served lemon drops in hand-painted bon bon dishes at each of the three tables. And after the eighth game the hostess served chicken salad sandwiches, potato chips, cakes and hot chocolate covered with oodles of whipped cream. Those present were Mesdames E. S. Allen, A. N. Brown, Sr., Van Elkins, B. M. Plucker, C. A. Gordon, B. L. Kollman, Audrey McCrary, Earl McDaniels, W. C. Pierce, J. T. Simmons, Lewis White and H. L. Womack.

CORSICANA MAN IS CAMPAIGN MANAGER LYNCH DAVIDSON

A. A. ALLISON WILL DIRECT WORK OF HOUSTON MAN'S CANDIDACY

Hon. Lynch Davidson of Houston, candidate for governor, announces the selection of A. A. Allison of this place to head his campaign organization. Mr. Allison was raised in Davidson's old home county, Limestone, having removed to Corsicana some fifteen years ago, and has followed Davidson's career from boyhood up the ladder of fame and usefulness, being his original supporter in Central Texas for lieutenant governor in 1920, and led Davidson's forces here for governor in 1924. Mr. Allison is a splendid citizen here, one of the leading spirits of the county in all civic movements, and is regarded as the best organizer for promoting public enterprises who ever led a campaign in this section. He now is the original moving spirit in the drive here for a Junior College. Mr. Allison is a leading farmer here, churchman, never held office, but has always been active in all public and political enterprises.

DISTRICT TITLE WILL BE DECIDED DURING WEEK-END

Corsicana will be the site for the championship game of this district of the University of Texas Interscholastic League between the Corsicana Tigers and the Rio Vista eagles. The game will be played at the Corsicana Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Saturday night at 7:45 o'clock. The Tigers have the titles of the Navarro and Ellis counties when they downed the Midlothian Mountaineers here recently 63-16. The Rio Vista eagles have the titles of Johnson, Hill and Bosque counties to their credit. Rio Vista was the title-winner of Johnson county and defeated Blum Hill county champion in their first inter-county contest. In the semi-final game last week-end, the Rio Vista team defeated the Clifton team, Bosque title-holder. The arrangements for the district finals were made early Tuesday morning by Coach O. P. Douglas of Corsicana over the long distance telephone with the officials of the Rio Vista school. This will probably be the last game of the season here for the Tigers in the University of Texas Interscholastic League and the fans of the city have been fortunate in securing this game for Corsicana in view of the fact that the semi-final game of the district with Midlothian was played in Corsicana.

Rio Vista is credited with a real team. No one in Corsicana has seen Rio Vista in action this season but a team that is able to win the title of three counties must have a good team or they would have met defeat prior to the finals in the district. Rio Vista is a small town but as is the case in many of the smaller schools of the state, basketball is the major sport and basketball is played the entire school year.

The Corsicana Tigers are working overtime this week in preparation for the titular contest. Clarence Horn is expected to be recovered for the game Saturday night and all of the veterans with the exception of Roy Varnell are expected to be in condition for this highly important contest. Crowley will get the call for the other guard position as the running mate of the sensational George Morwood.

Captain Green who turned in a sensational game at center against the Stephenville Yellowjackets Saturday evening will be in his accustomed place.

Horn and Humphreys will be back at their accustomed places as forwards. Between Horn, Humphreys and Green as scoring threats and the sensationally defensive tactics of Morwood and Crowley, the fans of the city are confident that the Tigers will be able to outscore the opposition in this final game of the district.

Coach O. P. Douglas is to be congratulated by the basketball fans of the city in his securing of this game for Corsicana.

BURGLARS SECURE MANY CIGARETTES WHOLESALE GROCERY

STROUD-DOCKUM LOST 300,000 SMOKES IN RAID ON STORE

Sometime late Monday or Tuesday morning, burglars effected an entrance into the Stroud-Dockum wholesale grocery company, 310 South Ninth street, and secured cigarettes valued at $1,800. Sheriff John W. Stewart and his force are working on the burglary and conducted an investigation there Tuesday morning. Entrance was effected through the skylight on the roof of the building. Apparently the burglars broke the locks on the rear doors for exit, and loaded the cigarettes on waiting trucks. There were thirty cases of Camel cigarettes, taken. The door was closed by the burglars when they left so as not to attract the attention of passersby. There were 10,000 cigarettes in each case, making a total of 300,000 "fags" taken.

No arrests have been made in connection with the burglary. Officers are working on the case. The theory is advanced by Chief of Police Will S. Knight that a confederate of the burglars secreted himself inside the building and was locked in when the store was closed for the day. The fact that the burglars closed the door and fastened it on leaving kept the city officers from discovering the entrance, which was not learned until the store was opened for business Tuesday morning.

WILL OPEN KERENS' NEW BAPTIST CHURCH SUNDAY, MARCH 7

Special to the Sun.
Kerens, Texas, Feb. 16.—March 7th the first Sunday in that month was set as the opening date of the New Kerens Baptist church, which has just been completed and accepted by the architect. The building is modern in every respect, and was built at a cost of more than $50,000. Dr. T. E. Dodd of Shreveport, La., has been invited for the occasion, and to conduct a series of meetings beginning on that date. Rev. W. A. Corkern is pastor of this church, and during his five years of pastorate here it has enjoyed healthy progress and growth.

BOY SCOUTS HELD TRACK-FIELD MEET AT MEXIA SATURDAY

TROOP TWO OF MEXIA WINS HONORS IN EVENTS ON PROGRAM

Special to the Sun.

Mexia, Texas, Feb. 16.—Boy Scout Troop 2, Mexia, has been declared the winner of a track and field meet held here Saturday. Tribulations of results in the event show. The meet was an addition or completion of the meet held New Year's Day, but called during the program on account of rain.

Troop 1, Mexia, and Troop 1, Groesbeck, were runners up with the Mexia Troop 2 for county honors.

The field meet ended the Sixteenth Scout Anniversary week, with all troops of Limestone county invited. Eight troops took part in the event.

Troop 2 had 50 points from the former meet and won 31 points Saturday, making a total of 81. A banner is being ordered for this troop, and will be presented at the housewarming of a new cabin built by the troop.

Troop No. 1, Mexia, was high for the last section of the meet, but had made no points in the former meet. Finals were:

Mexia 2, 81 points; Groesbeck 1, 39 points; Mexia 1, 33 points; Shiloh 25 points; Mexia 3, 17 points; Thornton 16 points; Mexia 4, 4 points, and Keech 1 point.

Points were awarded as follows: Inspection and line-up contest, Mexia 1, first; Mexia 3, second; Kossie third.

Fire-building and water boiling contest: Mexia 1, first; Shiloh second; Mexia 4, third.

Firemen's lift relay: Mexia 2, first; Mexia 3, second.

Standing hop, skip and jump (under 15): Mexia 2, first; Mexia 2, second; Thornton third.

Standing hop, skip and jump (over 15 years): Mexia 2, first; Mexia 2, second; Mexia 3, third.

Knot tying contest: Mexia 1, first; Mexia 1, second; Mexia 2, third.

Firebuilding and string burning contest: Groesbeck 1, first; Thornton 1, second; Mexia 2, third.

Signalling contest: Mexia 1, first.

Head bandage: Mexia 1, first; Mexia 3, second; Mexia 2, third.

Splinting of broken arm: Groesbeck 1, first; Thornton, second; Mexia 2, third.

INTEREST RUNNING HIGH COUNTY MEET STATE HOME MARCH

DIRECTOR GENERAL ERNEST
COX DEVOTING MUCH TIME TO WORK

Ernest Cox, director general of the Navarro County University of Texas Interscholastic league, states that the response of the schools of the county to the approaching county meet to be held at the State Capitol's Home, Saturday, March 20, is fine and that indications point to the realization of the goal of those in charge of the affair of having an attendance of 5,000 people.

Director Cox has been busy for several weeks visiting the rural schools of the county in the interest of the meet to be held here and he has been promised large delegations from practically all of the schools.

The merchants and citizens of Corsicana have been very liberal in their donations of medals, prizes, trophies, etc., and also have been liberal in providing food for the free lunch to be given the visitors at the meet.

"5,000 visitors or bust" is the slogan of the Interscholastic League officials.

Prizes in athletic, literary and other events have been provided.

Stop That Itching

SPRING POULTRY SHOW PLANS BEING RAPIDLY WORKED OUT

SHOW WILL BE HELD IN DAVIS BUILDING ON NORTH
BEATON STREET

Plans are rapidly being completed for the holding of the Spring Poultry Show in Corsicana, February 26-27, under the auspices of the Navarro County Poultry Association organized and headed by Jack Megarity, president. The show will be held in the Davis building on North Beaton street. The building is being given to the poultry fanciers free of charge by the owners.

The finance committee headed by H. B. Bonar is getting the finances in shape and Mr. Bonar states that the finance department of the Spring Show will be taken care of.

From the inquiries received thus far, indications point to a very creditable showing of birds in this first show sponsored by this organization.

Following are the general rules and regulations:

1. All entries and awards are subject to general rules and regulations.

2. Exhibits must be in place by 12 o'clock Friday, February 26.

3. No exhibit shall be moved before 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon, February 27.

4. No entry fee will be charged.

5. Entries from singles may be used to make up pens.

6. Where there is no competition in a class, second money only will be paid and first honors awarded. If entry is worthy otherwise, second, third and fourth premiums will be awarded.

7. Competition is open to all.

8. Judging will be by comparison. The revised American Standard of Perfection will be the guide.

9. All poultry shipped by express must be prepaid and letter sent advising when shipped so they will receive proper care.

10. The term "cockerel," "pullet," etc., are defined as follows: cock—a male bird 12 months old or over; cockerel—a male bird under 12 months; hen—female bird 12 months or older; pullet—a female bird under 12 months; old pen—one cock, four hens, same variety; young pen—one cockerel, four pullets, same variety.

11. Nothing but standard bred poultry will be allowed to be entered.

12. Provision is made in the premium list for entry of turkeys.

13. Twenty dollars ($20) is set aside for the entry of game fowls.

14. All poultry entered will be carefully looked after by an attendant and fed and watered free.

Premium List

Cock—1st, $1.00; 2nd, 50c; 3rd, 4th and 5th ribbon.

RHEUMATISM

IT'S GONE! That awful agony!

Rheumatism can't stand the rich, red blood that S. S. S. helps Nature build.

But rheumatism will bring pain and misery to your joints and muscles just as long as you are without plenty of rich, red blood in your system.

It's the red-blood-cells that S. S. S. helps Nature build that drive out of your system the impurities that cause rheumatism. And until you build up your blood to where it's pure and rich and red, you simply can't get rid of rheumatism.

And S. S. S. is the thing. Red blood conquers rheumatism. Everybody knows that.

S. S. S. means millions of red-blood-cells—means health all over. No more rheumatism. Nights of rest—days of joy, filled with the happiness of accomplishment—made possible by a body brimful of red blooded life, energy and vitality.

That's what the end of rheumatism means—that's what S. S. S. brings to you. Get S. S. S. from our druggist. The larger bottle is more economical.

A Great Year ~ A Great Car ~ and Lower Prices

1925 was the greatest year in Dodge Brothers history.

More than a quarter of a million Dodge Brothers Motor Cars were built and sold, yet demand was far in excess of production—and continues to mount.

To meet this world-wide need for a smart and dependable motor car, Dodge Brothers, Inc. have recently completed a $10,000,000 program of expansion, vastly increasing production and lowering the cost of manufacture.

Remarkable new machine equipment has also been installed—further reducing costs and perfecting quality.

As a result Dodge Brothers, Inc. were enabled on January 7th, to announce a schedule of prices that has revolutionized all previous standards of motor car value.

Prices all the more impressive because they apply to a dependable and trusted product made still better in many vital respects—

Engine operation incredibly smooth and quiet.

Instant engine response and elasticity.

Stylish new bodies finished in rich and distinctive colors.

Exceptional driving vision.

And the most important advance in steel body construction since Dodge Brothers pioneered in building the first all-steel body.

HOUSTON OIL CO. GETS BIG GASSER IN DUVAL COUNTY

By Associated Press.

San Antonio, Texas, Feb. 18.—The Houston Oil Company has a 40,000 cubic foot gasser which came in Wednesday morning one mile south and a short distance west of the San-Texas Petroleum Company's oil well in the Cole field in Duval county. The well is in the north corner of block 4, of section 15, and was drilled by the Cole Petroleum Company as one of the six wells to be drilled on the Cole block, the gas from which was sold previously to the Houston Oil Company to be piped to Houston.

The well is important as a gas well for its production but is also important since it establishes more closely the line between the gas-producing area and the oil-producing area.

While it is declared the deal has not been closed, reports from Laredo indicate that the Cole Petroleum Company, which some months ago contracted to sell gas from the gas field to the Houston Oil Company, has made a further deal, whereby the Houston company gets a working interest in some kind of oil and is now moving in a rig to drill to the east of the San-Texas well.

Cole Petroleum Company, which drilled the discovery well in the field, owns and holds practically all of the choice acreage in the field and has every offset tract around the discovery well is on which makes the purchase a valuable acquisition for the Houston company.

OIL EXCITEMENT IN MEDINA COUNTY IS RUNNING HIGH

Special to the Sun.
Hondo, Texas, Feb. 18.—The Medina Oil Company's Taylor No. 1, which was cemented to shut off water coming from the 200 foot level will drill in the latter part of this week. This well struck oil at 365 feet and the well was pumped for four days less twenty minutes and produced 500 barrels of oil, some water was showing with the oil but in making this test the water was drained off of the tank and when the tank was full of oil the test was witnessed and sworn to by disinterested parties.

It is predicted that there will be found in this shallow field a light heavy oil. The Taylor well is of heavy oil testing about 18 gravity.

Quite a bit of excitement prevails among oil men here and in San Antonio as to the finding of a pay sand at this depth.

Many deals have been closed and there will be about five new tests to start at once. Several of these tests will go to the Edwards limestone, which is expected to be very porous in Medina county.

The Medina Oil Company holds most of the acreage around the well but will immediately start several new wells and prove up their acreage as fast as they can get to them. This company was financed by Bisbee, Arizona, capital and the official of this company arrived in Hondo the other day to further perfect arrangements for the proving up of a large area in this county.

The higher companies are watching with interest the outcome. Some of them are active in the field. Others have made small purchases.

Most of the large companies have acreage up and down the faults in Medina county, but there they are playing the Edwards line.

The highest price paid for acreage so far is $100 per acre and it carries a drilling obligation.

Hondo, the county seat, is on the S. P. R. R. main division west, has several good hotels to take care of the oil men, has a population of about 3,600, and has a good chamber of commerce with live wires in it.

WORKER RICHLAND OIL FIELD BADLY INJURED IN FALL

DANIEL MORGAN IS CRUSHED WHEN HIS HORSE FALLS UPON HIM

Special to the Sun.

Richland, Texas, Feb. 18.—Daniel Morgan, one of Richland's most promising young men, happened to a severe accident Sunday morning which is feared will prove fatal. Mr. Morgan is an employee of the Gulf Oil Co. and was returning home from the field when the horse he was riding stumbled and fell on the young man, seriously injuring him as the weight of the animal caused the horn of the saddle to crush him so badly that his recovery is doubtful. C. O. Nolan came to his rescue, rushing him to the hospital in Corsicana. On examination it was found that it was necessary to procure blood from someone at once to save the young man's life. Mr. Nolan, without hesitation volunteered and offered his blood, which was used. He gave one quart of blood, which saved the young man's life. Mr. Nolan had rushed to his assistance without partaking of his breakfast and that and the loss of blood caused him to be very weak.

Making your eyes sprint — what a price you pay!

How long could you keep up with a champion sprinter? Most men, if chased by a grizzly bear, could show a speed they would not have believed possible.

And day after day, many of us—yourself, perhaps—are doing something just as extraordinary.

We're doing it with our eyes: making far-sighted eyes, for instance, go on giving clear vision in spite of their defects.

In work and play we depend on seeing. To live life everybody must see. And this is what makes hundreds of people see clearly although their eyes are weak and defective. It's the same freak of nature as when weak legs run like strong legs—because it's a life and death matter to keep out of the jaws of the grizzly. Between eyes and eyesight there's just the same difference as between legs and running.

How do we do it—how do we force clear eyesight from defective eyes?

—By letting our defective eyes burn up two or three times more nerve energy than they have a right to! But there's only so much nerve energy in the human body. When we strain our eyes other organs of the body have to suffer because most anywhere else—in such force. That's why eyestrain is often felt, not in the eyes, but almost anywhere else—in such symptoms as headaches, indigestion, sleeplessness, excessive irritability and brain fog.

To keep your health—to keep in front with the winner—you must know the truth about your eyes. Don't let the fact that you seem to have good eyesight fool you into thinking your eyes are right! Arrange today for an examination which will tell you the facts—about your eyesight, yes!—but, more important, about your eyes.

Have your eyes examined!

PRESIDENT QUILTS OFFICE TODAY WITH VERY HEAVY COLD

AFTER SEVERAL CONFER-
ENCES COOLIDGE RETIRES TO LIVING QUARTERS

By Associated Press.
 Washington, Feb. 17.—President Coolidge, after a brief stay today in his office, returned to his living quarters in the White House to seek relief from a heavy cold.

The president conferred during the morning with Chairman Madden of the house appropriations committee, received a call from Ambassador Riano of Spain and then cancelled all other engagements for the day.

Major James Couper, the president's physician, seemed not to regard the ailment as more than a passing cold and the same information was given out by Everett Sanders, the president's secretary. The first effects of the cold were felt by the president yesterday afternoon.

STATE HOME BAND GIVEN $100 CASH BY LOCAL CITIZEN

The members of the State Home band, who played at the Chamber of Commerce banquet Tuesday night, were given a cash donation of $100 by R. R. Davis, the money to be divided equally among the boys and girls playing.

The cash was presented the boys and girls at the school auditorium of the Home Wednesday morning by M. L. Moore, Joel Trimble and R. J. Banks, representing Mr. Davis.

Mr. Davis was in attendance of the Chamber of Commerce banquet and suggested he would give the band members this cash money and took the matter up through Mr. Moore and Mr. Banks.

The boys and girls were made glad shortly before noon today when the money was handed them individually.

Mr. Davis recently moved to Corsicana from Richland.

TYLER BANK RUNS DEMONSTRATION FARM BENEFIT OF FARMERS

DAYS OF "FROZEN FACED"
BANKER HAVE PASSED
FOREVER

By Associated Press.
 Tyler, Texas, Feb. 16.—Jay Gould's famous declaration about the relations of the railroads and the public several decades ago finds no responsive echo among Texas banks, one in Tyler in particular which has indicated by precept and example that the old time "frozen faced" banker, generally speaking, has gone the way of the family carriage, whale oil lamps and the crane in the fireplace.

The bank, a nationalized institution, runs a demonstration farm in Smith county, to show farmers how to grow more cotton on the same land. The project includes 28 acres, all but five in Cleveland big boll, Kasmir and half cotton. Twenty-six bales of cotton were produced on the area in 1925. The land has been under cultivation for many years without much attention paid to replenishing the soil.

To built it up, the bank spread cotton seed, which has been damaged in a fire, at the rate of 100 pounds per acre over the area to be planted. Half of the land 300 loads of barn yard manure was spread during the previous winter and plowed under with 300 to 400 pounds of acid phosphate and 100 to 200 pounds of nitrate of soda.

Then on special acre tests 250 pounds of acid phosphate, 200 pounds of nitrate of soda and 50 pounds of potash were applied. When the crop came on results were checked with an untreated acre.

The farm is on a rolling, East Texas sandy soil and is regarded as typical of that on which the bulk of the East Texas cotton crop is grown. The bank's efforts are expected to prove that considerable "poor" cotton can be produced on this same land than has been the rule.

WORKERS MEETING AT FIRST BAPTIST WELL ATTENDED

INTERESTING PROGRAM AT CONFERENCE HERE MON-DAY—GARDNER TALKS

The largest attendance in the history of Corsicana Workers' Conference featured the meeting at First Baptist church of this city. The program planned by the Association of Missionary, Rev. W. D. Bowen, was a real treat to all present. This program was a unique one, only laymen appearing on same. J. A. Millerman, a layman of this county and moderator of the association work, presided.

The principal speaker of the hour was T. C. Gardner, State Y. P. U. Secretary, using as his subject, "The Laymen's Place in the Training Service." Mr. Gardner has the happy combination of being a genius in matters of detail and at the same time a man of great vision and ability.

In the Southern Baptist Convention there are 17,000 Y. P. U. Under the direction of Mr. Gardner Texas alone has one-fifth, or 3,500 of this number, with a membership of 110,000 young people, it was stated.

He returned to Ennis, where he and his faculty are conducting an enlargement campaign for the Central Baptist church. He will conduct a similar campaign at First Baptist church of this city.

SYDNEY MARKS WAS NAMED PRESIDENT CHAMBER COMMERCE

ONE OF MOST SUCCESSFUL BANQUET MEETINGS IN HISTORY TUESDAY NIGHT

The annual membership banquet meeting of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock in the gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A. with some three hundred prominent men and a large number of women present. It was one of the most successful get together meetings ever held by the Chamber of Commerce, and will go down in the history of the organization as a meeting productive of great good for the progress and upbuilding of the city and county, and the betterment of the conditions of the people of both.

The main speaker of the evening was Nathan Adams, president of the American Exchange National Bank of Dallas, who for many years has been a leading advocate in Texas of better farming methods and the introduction of such methods among the farmers of this state. Mr. Adams is an interesting talker, and took for his subject, "The Part of Business in a Better Agricultural Program."

Officers for the coming year were named by the assembled members of the Chamber of Commerce, a committee consisting of presidents of the five banking institutions of the city and the past presidents of the organization having made the nominations. The officers named follow: Sydney Marks, president; L. C. Coulson and W. C. Stroube, vice presidents; J. N. Garitty, treasurer, and W. Roy Christian, secretary-manager.

The large gymnasium room had been transformed into a banquet hall where long tables had been arranged with snowy linen and silver, with flowers used in profusion for decorations, while the United States flag held prominent place. The menu served under the direction of Mrs. Frank Drane was excellent. In fact, the placing of Mrs. Drane in charge of an affair of this kind is complete assurance that the preparation and serving of the menu will be perfect in every detail. Mrs. Drane was assisted by a large number of ladies and young girls in serving and seeing that everyone present was given a bountiful meal. The Roy Scouts, under Scout Executive Caleb M. Moss, also assisted in many ways.

Hon. J. L. Halbert gave a toastmaster and as usual acquitted himself in a manner that brought nothing but praise from the great gathering. His remarks in introducing the speakers of the evening were pertinent and to the point. Mr. Halbert is well versed in the things that will redound for the good of Corsicana and Navarro county, and he places these things squarely before his hearers in an interesting manner.

The State Orphans' Home Band, under the leadership of Prof. Joe Trimble, gave a musical program prior to the beginning of the banquet, and played several selections from the Y. M. C. A. while the guests were assembling.

The toastmaster called the assembly to order and asked that all join in the singing of one verse of "America," led by Paul B. Harper. This was done with a zest, the singers filling the great hall with the melody of this favorite tune. The Rev. Eugene W. Potter, pastor of the First Methodist church, gave the invocation, giving thanks for past blessings, and praying for further blessings on the assembled guests, and the organization and the affairs of the evening and all its works.

One of the most pleasing features of the evening was the concert by the Corsicana high school orchestra of twenty-four pieces, under the leadership of Miss Frances Allen, supervisor of music in the city public schools. The orchestra gave selections all during the time the banqueters were partaking of the perfectly arranged and served menu, which was as follows:

Fruit Cocktail
Roast Turkey
Asparagus
Honey
Thousand Island Dressing
Celery
Fried Ice Cream
Homemade Cake
Royal's Coffee
De Luxe Rolls
Toastmaster Halbert read telegrams from W. R. Scott, of Houston, president of the Southern Pacific Lines; Daniel Upthegrove, president of the Cotton Belt, and a letter from John F. Lehane, vice president of the Cotton Belt, regretting their inability to be present, but pledging their support to the organization and interest in the city and its people.

In a very appropriate talk Mr. Halbert welcomed the visitors from over the county, stating that the destiny of Navarro county, Corsicana, and every other town in the county was one. He assured them of the co-operation of Corsicana's citizenship for the prosperity of all. He then introduced the new secretary-manager of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, W. Roy Christian and paid that gentleman a high compliment, amid the cheers and applause of the nearly four hundred present. Mr. Christian then introduced the visitors from over the county, there being several present from Kerens, Frost, Blooming Grove, Rice and other towns in the county, as well as from Mexico, Dallas, Ennis, Hillsboro and other cities in and out of the state.

Retiring President, J. M. Dyer, Sr., gave his report of the previous Native Son Named President C. of C.

SYDNEY MARKS

Final activities of the Chamber of Commerce for the past two years, while he was the executive head of the organization, his resume containing the accomplishments that were most outstanding. He started out by stating the great necessity for and work to be done by such an organization, reciting the ever true statement of "what is everybody's business is nobody's business," and adding that when there is no delegated body to look after the advancement of the city that it does not progress very rapidly.

Among the matters cited were the Texas centennial activities, the paving of the streets leading to the County Hospital, the securing of a new and modern five-story hotel, textile mill activities, county farm and home demonstration work reinstated, the county fair, improved union station, the traffic signals in the business district, extra train service to the oil fields, the matter of rebuilding the Porter's Bluff bridge across Trinity river, freight rate reductions amounting to practically $60,000 annually as a saving to local business men, the white way, aiding in farm terracing. The publicity gained by Corsicana in the his daily papers was mentioned and here Mr. Dyer took occasion to pay a high tribute to the assistance given by the Corsicana Daily Sun, making the assertion that the Sun was the greatest single asset Corsicana could claim.

With the close of his resume of the Chamber's activities, Fred Upchurch made a brief but eloquent talk in regard to the good works and accomplishments of Mr. Dyer, and in behalf of his co-workers in the Chamber of Commerce presented him with a very handsome and serviceable chocolate set. Mr. Dyer while taken by surprise made a very feeling response, thanking his colleagues for their evidence of appreciation.

Probably the most pleasing feature of the entire evening was the songs and dances by the twelve little members of Miss Rosellen Sadler's class. These little misses were within themselves so very sweet and winsome as to cause exclamations of admiration when they appeared, but their songs and readings, with the dancing of the Charleston brought forth uproarious applause. These little tots were led by "Baby Sister" Grandbury. Misses Edina Tidd and Dorothy Woodrow were featured in a song and dance number that also brought much applause.

Owing to the fact that the main speaker of the evening desired to return to his home in Dallas, the program was changed slightly and Mr. Nathan Adams, president of the American Exchange National Bank, the largest banking institution in Texas, was introduced and took for his subject "The Part of Business in a Better Agricultural Program." After stating "that he was very much pleased that he was here and that he had many friends in Corsicana Mr. Adams launched into his subject of better farming methods. He brought the regrets of President E. R. Brown of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce and former Corsicana citizen in being unable to be present.

He stressed the fact that one community cannot live unto itself and that the prosperity of the people as a whole was what was desired by every right thinking man. The ultimate welfare of the State of Texas, he stated, depends upon agriculture, and remarked that in a one crop country could not live and prosper, especially when that one crop was raised at a loss. He cited the competition of India and China in the matter of raising short staple cotton. He pictured the buy a bale movement of a few years ago and asked his hearers if they wished to see that time come again in Texas.

He stressed the fact that if given his choice of the world as a place of residence he would choose Texas. This state, he said, had the climate and soil to produce anything that would grow anywhere. Mr. Adams stated that he was not a farmer, but that he had a price in the South and realized, as any other man who would study the situation would do, that the drought over a part of the state and the freeze in another section was the only thing that had kept the cotton price to where it was today. He spoke against a large cotton acreage, saying that while the landowners in a great many instances demanded that their tenants plant a heavy acreage in cotton, that it was time they were changing their ideas.

"A man cannot get rich and enjoy those riches through the poverty of others," was one of the speaker's terse statements. No business concern would continue business along losing lines if it could be avoided, he stated. Here he told of the campaign to reduce the cotton acreage and to increase the acreage in feed and food crops to the extent that the farmer could live at home and enjoy life while doing so. He stated that the nearly 4,000,000 bales of Texas cotton produced this year was raised at a loss, and statistics showed that the stupendous sum of $225,000,000 was being sent out of the state for feed and food. The vitality of the soil is sapped by the one-crop idea, he said, and stressed the fact that Texas could not produce a big cotton crop at a loss and buy high priced feed and food, and expect to live and prosper and be happy at the same time.

Mr. Adams stated that after all was said and done there was nothing worth while but the thought that you have done your duty. He presented the plan of the Texas State Farmers' Association for the growing of more cotton and better cotton on a smaller acreage and the growing of more feed and food crops on more acres. Don't knock the proposition, he stated, but if you have a better plan present it. If you have not a better plan, he continued, get behind this plan for five years and give it a chance to make good. Clarence Ousley, he said, was at the head of the Texas State Farmers' Association, and it was hoped to spread the idea to every one of the Southern States. Mr. Adams closed his remarks by stating that he and his co-workers would appreciate the co-operation of the people of Corsicana and Navarro county.

A number of selections were given by a quartette composed of Messrs. Paul B. Harper, Fred White, Roy Leeds, and M. A. Spurgeon. So pleasing were their offerings that they were forced to respond to several encores.

The report of the nominating committee was read by Mayor John S. Murchison, as follows: In giving thought to the matter of a capable person to head the organization, your committee on nomination observed the unusually large number of names on the board of directors and the standing committees.

We believe that a smaller board of directors would feel more individual responsibility and consequently be a more active unit. Therefore, we recommend to the executive committee of the incoming administration that the new directorate consist of not more than fifteen members and that the standing committee consist of from three to five members. We believe that the policy of small compact committees will result in fully as any active workers and in increased efficiency of the organization. Experience suggests that it is easier to expand a small committee for some temporary major activity than it is to contract a large committee for handling the routine duties that arise.

After careful consideration your committee offers in nomination the following officers: For treasurer, L. C. Coulson, W. C. Stroube; for president, Sydney Marks. The nominating committee was composed of the following: J. N. Edens, chairman; Geo. B. Jester, L. N. Cerf, J. S. Murchison, J. N. Elliott, J. Frank Williams, A. J. Elliott, C. L. Knox, Lowry Martin, T. J. Walton, R. J. Jackson.

Upon the introduction of the new officers Mr. Marks was called on for a few remarks and in a most eloquent and sincere manner thanked the organization and the membership for the honor bestowed upon him, stating that it was the happiest hour of his life; that he had been born on Beaton street, where the Odd Fellows building now stands, and that he would rather have the honor bestowed upon him by Corsicana than any other place on earth. He praised the Corsicana spirit and the Corsicana citizenship and then asked the co-operation of the citizenship in order that the year 1926 might be a year of deeds and not one of words. He pledged the best that was in him for the advancement of Corsicana and its interests.

H. D. Fillers, superintendent of the Corsicana public schools and chairman of the educational committee of the Chamber of Commerce, spoke concerning the junior college idea and the investigations being conducted relative to the proposed acquisition of a junior college for Corsicana. In the beginning of his remarks Mr. Fillers reviewed the growth of education in the United States. He stated that at the beginning of the school system of the United States, colleges and universities were teaching subjects given in the public schools today. He showed how the high school was a comparison new institution and has about put the American academy out of business. He also pointed out how the high school did not exactly fill the need and the establishment of the junior high schools was the result.

He pointed out that many of the subjects now being given in the colleges and universities are also given in the high schools and in many instances, the same subjects were given pupils when they entered college.

He stated that a few years ago, the junior college idea was brought forth and at the present time, there are hundreds of junior colleges in America. The junior college is a school in which the first two years of college work is done, and is accepted by all of the higher institutions.

He declared that there were influences in all colleges and universities which were hazards to the younger students and in the event that it was possible for the high school graduates to remain under the home influences for two years longer, a greater service would be given for leadership which is the primary object of high education. He pointed out that in colleges and universities, the majority of the activities and honors go to the juniors and seniors, and the students of the first two years have little chance at the leadership. He said that if a junior college was available, the students would have this training in leadership during those two years and during their last two years at college they would also secure their leadership training as they would be juniors and seniors there.

To make a success of a junior college, it was necessary to have at least 175 or 200 students enrolled. He referred to the investigations of his committee of junior colleges in Hillsboro, San Antonio, California, Kansas, and other points.

Mr. Fillers declared that Corsicana was ideally situated for the location of a high class junior college and was located in a rich county with plenty of territory from which to draw. He quoted figures on the cost of the sending of the students of the students of Navarro county and Corsicana and showed how a great saving could be effected in dollars and cents.

He declared that his committee had not completed its investigations concerning the junior college idea for Corsicana and was not ready to make a report. He stated that a detailed report setting forth all available facts and other data would not be submitted until all phases of the proposed junior college had been investigated.

J. K. Hughes, famous wildcatter and oil producer, spoke humorously of the origin of oil, and said the next big oil field will be opened between Corsicana and Ennis. He stated that during the flood millions of fish died that were hurried to the source of oil. At Ennis, he remarked, only small fishes were destroyed by the flood, but nearer to Corsicana the big whales were killed. From one billion fish statisticians say 100,000 barrels of crude oil is produced, he said humorously. Shifting to the subject of good highways, Mr. Hughes spoke in favor of a highway system through Navarro and Limestone counties, pointing out that all automobile traffic is directed around Corsicana and neighboring towns are reaping the harvest. He is a good roads enthusiast and hopes to see the highways in first class condition traversing this part of Texas. The farmers, he pointed out, needed good roads to get to town with their produce. He declared that Mexico people like Corsicana people, but that they would like to have a better way of getting up to see them more. He said that six months in the year the roads could be traveled to Corsicana, but the other six months they could not.

D. B. Smith, Mexico banker, spoke very briefly, saying he and Mr. Hughes had been to Dallas hearing lectures on the matter of vast importance to cotton raisers and oil production. They attended the Boy Scouts' convention, which work he mentioned was interested in the raising of men and the proper teaching of boys.

Mr. Smith humorously said for Corsicana not to get too friendly with Mexico, as was suggested by Mr. Hughes, because the Central Texas Association baseball season will soon be open and there would be much rivalry between the teams of the towns competing in the loop. Mr. Smith's remarks closed the evening and adjournment was taken at a few minutes before the hour of eleven.

A unique and pleasing feature was the spotlight effects played upon several of the speakers and the songs about the person then on the floor by the quartette, and the Roy Scouts under the leadership of Caleb Moss.

VALENTINE PARTY
LEGION AUXILIARY
COMPLETE SUCCESS

The Valentine party of the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion held at the Legion headquarters Monday night was featured with a musical program and the serving of chicken salad sandwiches, potato chips, cake and other delectables. About fifty were in attendance.

Talks were made by Rev. Ingles, of Richland, former department chaplain, and at present chaplain of the Johnson-Wiggins Post No. 22, and Post Commander O. M. Boynton. Chaplain Ingles urged the organization of a Forty and Eight Vulture here as a means of making the past activities more lively. He said he is for the American Legion first, last and all the time, right or wrong.

If the Legion is right, then inside is where I belong, and if it is wrong, I can better help to right it from within rather than from the outside and making criticisms. Rev. Ingles said. He said that there should not be "ex-service" men, but "service" men. Men in the service of the country during the war fought for a mighty principle, and to cease serving after the war may mean the loss of those principles for which so many buddies died.

The speaker said he did not want to be called or known as "Dr." or "Rev." in connection with Legion activities, but as "Buddies." He challenged any one to show better co-operative spirit than he in promoting the work of the Legion and the Auxiliary.

The Auxiliary program consisted of a dance by Little Miss Edna Tidd, Miss Mary Jo, Young read, Mrs. Estelle Skelton rendered a piano solo, Miss Ethel Louise Skelton read.

Misses Ruth Alice, Leonard Eleanor Lamb and Carolyn Binyard rendered several popular selections on the saxophone, violin and piano.

The repeat was served by the Auxiliary members who had the Valentine party in charge. Mrs. J. B. Redden was chairman; Mrs. W. C. Van Hook and Mrs. C. D. Speed assisted in the arrangements and putting on the program.

The Legion is quartered in its new offices on North Beaton street over Cunningham Bros. hardware store. Monday night's joint meeting was the first to be held this year. Other similar meetings are scheduled during the year.

WORST SNOWSTORM
OF WINTER RAGING
MISSOURI-KANSAS

By Associated Press. Saint Joseph, Mo., Feb. 18.—The worst snow storm of the winter is raging throughout Northwest Missouri and Northeast Kansas today. It is feared that railroad and vehicular traffic will be demoralized if the snow continues much longer. The fall started last night.

SUMMER CAMPS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS TO BE HELD KERRVILLE.

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Feb. 17.—On a wild mountainous tract of 1,800 acres located in the hill country 18 miles southwest of Kerrville 75 Texas girls this summer will be gathered strength and energy from the "back to nature" life. These girls will live at Log Cabin Lodge, and will be under the guidance of 13 Texas women, most of them well known high school teachers. Miss Minnette Thompson, instructor in English in Houston Central high school, will be camp director.

Eight roomy log cabins, built from logs gathered from the tract on which the camp is located will house the girls. A large two-story log building will serve as headquarters for the staff of directors, as administration building, as a hospital for the fathers and mothers of the girls, who may care to visit, and as a dining hall. A nine hole golf course, a large stable of thoroughbred horses, and electric lights supplied from the camp's own plant will be other features.

E. J. (Doc) Stewart, head Texas University football and basketball coach, conceived Log Cabin Lodge for girls, and it will be run under his ownership. For the past two summers, Stewart's Camp for Boys, located on a 27 acre tract one mile west of Kerrville on the Guadalupe river, has been a big success, with the enrollment in 1925 being double that of 1924. All indications are that in 1926, the enrollment at the boys' camp will exceed 200. The number of girls has been limited to 75 for Log Cabin Lodge.

Each camp will open June 15 and close August 10. The camping season will be divided into two four-week terms, the first ending June 12. Mrs. W. N. James of Austin, wife of "Bill" James, assistant Texas University football coach, is handling all applications for places in the two camps. No one younger than 10 or older than 21 may attend.

For several hours each day the boys and girls will be given academic instruction, if their parents so desire. Dr. Henry C. Evans, a teacher in Columbia University, New York, will have charge of teaching the boys, and Mrs. W. W. Crofoot of Austin High School, will direct the studies of the girls.

Following are the women who will live with the girls at Log Cabin Lodge: Miss Thompson, camp director; Mrs. Crofoot, dean of the summer school work, and the following instructors, Mrs. Miriam Cooper, Galveston public school music teacher; Mrs. J. R. Stratton, Fort Worth high school teacher; Miss Marcella Walker, Amarillo high school teacher; Mrs. Joe Ward, Wesley College teacher; Miss Lou Davis, Cameron high school teacher; Mrs. H. G. Wilson, Amarillo; Miss Anna Epps, Brownwood; Mrs. L. V. Perkins, Cameron; Mrs. C. W. Wilkinson, Longview; Mrs. W. N. James, Austin; and Miss Thelma Dillingham, Austin.

In Stewart's Camp for Boys, athletics, rather than woodcraft, will be stressed. A nine hole golf course, a number of tennis courts, a baseball diamond, a basketball court, a cinder path for track sprinters, a football gridiron, and any number of summer homes in the Guadalupe river will be available. To direct activities of the boys there will be a large number of coaches, headed by Stewart.

Directors of the camp will be Stewart, Dr. Evans and C. S. Simmons, director of athletics at Houston Central high school.

Among the camp counselors, each of whom will have direct supervision of a small group, are: "Bobby" Cannon, former star Texas University football and baseball player, who is now athletic director at San Antonio Brackenridge high school; H. G. Wilson, Amarillo basketball and track coach; H. B. Fehl, coach at Beaumont South Side junior high school, who will have charge of Boy Scouts work among the girls; L. V. Perkins, Cameron athletic director; "Shorty" Anderson, assistant Texas University coach; F. K. Bright, Giddings high school coach; C. W. Wilkinson, Longview; Joe Ward, Wesley College athletic director; and "Rocky" Rundell, Texas University football player.

GIANT OFFICE STRUCTURE IN GOTHAM SCENE OF FIRE FORTY STORIES ABOVE STREET

By Associated Press. New York, Feb. 16.—Forty stories above Broadway firemen today waged a successful and spectacular battle against a fire in the $30,000,000 Equitable Building, one of the largest office structures in the world.

Most of the damage, estimated at $60,000, was in the thirty-fourth and thirty-fifth floors in the offices of Daniel Gettenghim and the American Smelting and Refining Company.

The blaze originated in the basement of the skyscraper, which is located in the heart of the financial district, near Wall street, and leaped the shaft containing steam pipes and electric cables to the Eleventh, sixteenth, twenty-fourth and thirty-fourth floors, skipping those that intervened.

Four engineers and a repairman were trapped in the Pent House, a three-story superstructure on the roof chiefly containing elevator machinery.

They were found by firemen on a narrow ledge for three stories above the street level and nearly 400 feet up.

W. J. Hickman of Sherman was here today. R. C. McBride of Waco was here today.

HONEY

Compare it with other foods packed in the same kind of container. When you consider the food values you will see that honey is lower in price than many other foods.

Any food packed in a small costly package must necessarily sell at a higher price per volume than if packed in a larger package.

Ask your grocer for a five or ten-pound pail of NOLEN'S HONEY. You will find the price in keeping with economy.
